"Your Guide to Planning a Special Event in Washington, D.C."

(2010 4th Edition)

INTRODUCTION

As the nation's capital, Washington, D.C. hosts numerous special events that reflect the city's diverse and rich heritage. The Government of the District of Columbia provides essential municipal services in support of special events to ensure events occurring on public space in the District of Columbia are conducted in a manner that protects public health and safety. Coordinating the city's public safety planning efforts for events requiring interagency coordination is the responsibility of the Mayor's Special Events Task Group (MSETG). The MSETG, which is composed of membership from District of Columbia government agencies, Federal government agencies, and private sector emergency service organizations, is responsible for providing interagency reviews and assessments of the operational, public safety and logistical components of proposals for special events.

The MSETG meets to review presentations of proposed events the second and fourth Monday of each month, except on government holidays. The organizers of proposed special events are required to present event proposals to the MSETG and receive the concurrence of the group prior to the issuance of permits or licenses by the permit-granting agencies. It should be noted that the applicable permit-granting agencies have the final authority for granting or denying permits for any activities under their jurisdictional authority. Presentations of event proposals to the MSETG are required no less than ninety (90) days prior to the proposed date of the event. Presentation requests to the MSETG should therefore, be received in writing a minimum of one hundred twenty (120) days, and are accepted up to one year prior to the proposed date of the event. The request should be addressed to Millicent W. West, Director, Homeland Security and Emergency Management Agency; Mayor's Special Events Task Group; 2720 Martin Luther King, Jr. Avenue SE, 2nd Floor; Washington DC 20032; or via fax on (202) 715-7288.

The written request must contain at a minimum, the following information:

- Name/title of the proposed event
- Organizer/sponsor of the proposed event
- Purpose/intent of the proposed event
- Proposed date(s) of the event
- Beginning and ending times of the proposed event
- Proposed location/route (narrative and map) of the event
- Proposed street closures (include streets to be closed as well as closing and reopening times)
- Contact person (include telephone number and email address)
- Event organization telephone number and website for public notice
- Expected attendance

Once the written request has been received by the MSETG, the organizer of the event will be contacted for the purpose of scheduling a date for the required presentation to the MSETG. The presentation of the event to the MSETG should minimally include the logistical and operational aspects of the event (i.e., date, beginning and ending times of the event, location/route, diagram of event set-up, detailed plan with activity/programmatic timelines, street closure requests, set-up and dismantling time lines, and information relative to any staging or equipment erected on public space). Thirty-five (35) hard copies of the presentation must be submitted to the MSETG no later than the Wednesday before the scheduled presentation date.

In determining whether to grant or deny an event proposal, the MSETG will minimally consider the effect the proposed event will have on the health and safety of the public, the environment, transportation management, and the required manpower and resources of the city. The MSETG's approval of an event proposal is contingent on the support of the affected communities and the organizer's compliance with all terms, conditions, and provisions of current District and Federal agencies' rules, laws, regulations, codes, and public safety requirements.

Event organizers are required to meet with representatives of the communities impacted by the event as noted herein, to develop mitigation strategies that address their concerns. Event organizers of processional events (i.e., walks, runs, bike rides, etc.) are required to present proposals approved by the MSETG to the applicable Advisory Neighborhood Commissions (ANCs) for their support of the route traversing their respective ANCs. Written support from the ANCs must be provided to the MSETG. The community consent requirement for stationary events requiring a special event license (i.e., festivals, exhibitions, etc.) is seventy-five percent (75%) of the residential/business establishments within a 300 feet radius of the proposed event site.

The MSETG's approval of an event does not presume to give authority to violate or cancel the public safety requirements of any District or Federal agency, or the provisions of any District or Federal law, regulation, or code governing the use of public property. It is the responsibility of event organizers to comply with the public safety requirements of District and Federal agencies, and all applicable District and Federal laws, regulations, and codes in cooperation with District and Federal agencies. All terms, conditions and provisions of current District and Federal laws, regulations, and codes, shall remain in full force and effect.

Failure to comply with District and Federal laws, regulations, and codes, as well as failure to adhere to the requirements, guidelines and procedures of any District, Federal, or member agency of the MSETG may result in denial, suspension, or revocation of licenses and permits, or summary termination of the event.

The District of Columbia reserves the right to make changes to any of the subjects included herein, as deemed necessary.

DEFINITION

For the purpose of this guide, a special event is considered to be, although not limited to, a parade, walk, run, bike ride, procession (excluding funeral processions), or festival requiring interagency coordination for the temporary use of public space under the ownership or control of the District of Columbia that requires changing, restricting, or adapting the normal and usual regulations or controls of such space held open for use by the general public, but not including sidewalks and parks, for activities of a recreational, entertainment, amusement, educational, or civic nature not conducted for vending, marketing or commercial purposes, and subject to the special event user fees for permits and licenses and to cover the costs to the District for providing police, fire, and other public services that are necessary to protect public health and safety.

Activities protected by the First Amendment to the United States Constitution, including assemblages organized to consult for the common good, petition the government, exercise worship or religion, or demonstrate as a public display of sentiment for or against a person or cause for the purposes of speech making or address do not require the approval of the MSETG. Organizers of First Amendment activities should contact the Special Operations Division of the Metropolitan Police Department on (202) 671-6522.

GENERAL CONSIDERATIONS

In developing a plan for a special event, several factors should be considered by the event organizer. In addition to the scope of the event, community impact, municipal support and public safety requirements, general planning considerations should include, but not be limited to the following factors in planning for a safe and successful event.

WEATHER is an important factor in special event planning. Washington, D.C. is subject to hot, humid weather from May 30 through October 15. Thunderstorms and rain showers are frequent in the summer months. Cold weather may set in as early as the middle of November and continue through April. Cold rains and snowfalls are also prevalent during this period. The MSETG strongly urges special event organizers to consider weather conditions carefully. Hot, humid weather can produce health hazards to participants in outdoor events. The effects of heat and humidity are cumulative, and careful planning should include some analysis of the probable impact of exposure to weather conditions. Cold weather also requires adequate protection from the elements.

COMPOSITION OF THE EXPECTED CROWD is an important planning consideration. Elderly citizens and small children require adequate planning, particularly if lengthy marches are part of the event. Organizers should make provisions for those who will have difficulty walking long distances. Event organizers are responsible for providing adequate water supply, sanitary facilities, and portable restrooms (1 for every 300 persons) to meet sanitation requirements. Food provisions should be considered as well, especially if the time period of the event is lengthy. Please keep in mind that persons from outside the District are often unfamiliar with local resources and services. All indoor and outdoor sites for special events must be accessible to persons with disabilities. Disabled access may include parking, restrooms, clear paths of travel, transportation, accessible vendors and booths. If all areas are not accessible, information should be provided to attendees indicating the accessible restrooms, parking, clear paths of travel, etc.

BUS PARKING AND TRANSPORTATION is an especially important planning item. Large events involving many buses require active liaison efforts with the Metropolitan Police Department, the District Department of Transportation, and the Washington Metropolitan Area Transit Authority to ensure adequate parking areas, bus identification, and drop-off/pick-up points are well planned and coordinated.

LOST AND FOUND SERVICE is another critical planning item. Event organizers should exercise special care to provide well identified signs, announcement by public address systems or pre-event handouts that clearly designate such services. In setting up a lost and found service, it is important for event organizers to assign individuals who will remain at the lost and found area until the event is fully terminated.

COMMUNICATIONS SYSTEMS are an important element in sound logistical planning. Communications systems may include portable radios, cellular telephones, and adequate public address systems. Use of such equipment is dependent upon crowd size, routes, and geographical terrain. It is required that a large event (over 10,000 people) include provisions for a clearly identified logistical command post with an effective communications system.

Mayor's Special Events Task Group

"Your Guide to Planning a Special Event in Washington, D.C."

(2010 4th Edition)

STAGES are an important item for consideration. For large crowds, it is essential that staging be of sufficient height and visibility to project the activities to the crowd adequately. Security for the stage should be carefully planned. For large activities, snow fencing should be considered for stage security. In setting up the stage, always leave a well identified emergency access route. Although problems of crowd control are not expected, such a route is especially important when emergency medical care is needed by participants near the front of the crowd.

EMERGENCY MEDICAL SERVICES/FIRST AID provision is an essential consideration in event planning. On-site, trained, professional and licensed personnel allows event organizers to be proactive when it comes to providing immediate emergency medical assistance.

CROWD CONTROL is a crucial element of successful special event planning. Adequate training of event marshals/personnel and the use of fencing equipment are measures to consider in the management of crowds.

METRORAIL SERVICE is an important consideration in event planning. Special schedules are operated on weekends and holidays. Metrobuses may need to be re-routed or Metrorail service may need to be supplemented in order to facilitate certain events.

GENERAL REQUIREMENTS

The MSETG has been established to ensure that any changes, restrictions, or adaptations to public space, resulting from a special event are managed in a safe and prudent manner in order to protect public health, safety, and welfare, and to ensure minimal impact on the public and citizens of the District of Columbia. It is the responsibility of the event organizer to comply with the following minimum general requirements established by the MSETG for planning and coordinating a special event subject to the requirements of the MSETG as noted herein:

AGENCY-SPECIFIC REQUIREMENTS

METROPOLITAN POLICE DEPARTMENT

Street closures are routinely granted by the District of Columbia for special events. In order to ensure pedestrian and motor vehicle safety, street closures designed to split a festival or allow traffic to traverse between a separation of the festival area(s) are considered a public safety hazard and will not be considered for approval.

In the interest of public safety and to prevent the intrusion of motor vehicles into areas designated for pedestrians and equipment (e.g. tables, tents, chairs, vendors, etc.), the Metropolitan Police Department requires that all event organizers completely barricade roadways with barriers capable of stopping an oncoming vehicle (e.g., water-filled barriers). The event organizer is fully responsible for the renting, insuring, transportation, installation, and removal of the barriers. The barriers are to be positioned in such a manner as directed by the Metropolitan Police Department and in compliance with District of Columbia Fire and EMS Department's requirements for an emergency access lane for emergency response and rescue vehicles.

To ensure that you are meeting the requirements set forth by the Metropolitan Police Department, please contact:

Metropolitan Police Department
Special Operations Division
2301 L Street, NW
Washington, DC 20037
(202) 671-6522

DEPARTMENT OF FIRE AND EMERGENCY MEDICAL SERVICES

The Department of Fire and EMS mandates that all streets remain accessible to emergency vehicles and equipment at all times via a minimum 20 ft. dedicated and unobstructed emergency lane, and/or as may be further determined by the Department of Fire and EMS.

An essential requirement when planning a special event is the adequate provision of first aid and/or emergency medical services. It is imperative that normal emergency medical services operations for the city are not hindered by the staging of a special event. The Department of Fire and EMS (EMS Special Events Coordinator) as well as the Department of Health must review and approve your plans for first aid and/or emergency medical services to ensure that provisions are in place for coverage by proper licensed/certified personnel. To ensure safety of persons attending a special event, the Emergency Medical Service provider (if services are not provided by the Department of Fire and EMS) must be able to initiate an Incident Action Plan (as required by the U.S. Department of Homeland Security) that is appropriate for the event. All events must have an Incident Action Plan on file with the Department of Fire and EMS. Additionally, the provider must have direct radio communications capability with the Department of Fire and EMS, local and applicable Federal law enforcement agencies, and the District of Columbia's Homeland Security and Emergency Management Agency. The following guideline, established according to the number of people anticipated at an event, will ensure that appropriate emergency medical coverage is provided throughout your event:

1 – 1,999

You may rely on 911 response for the event.

2,000 – 9,999

A fixed First Aid site with certified/licensed personnel who will remain on site throughout the event.

10,000 – 19,999

One fixed First Aid site with certified/licensed personnel who will remain on site throughout the event and a Basic Life Support Ambulance (licensed in the District of Columbia) that will transport patients to an appropriate medical facility.

Mayor's Special Events Task Group
"Your Guide to Planning a Special Event in Washington, D.C."
(2010 4th Edition)

20,000 – 30,000

One fixed First Aid site with certified/licensed personnel who will remain on site throughout the event, a licensed Basic Life Support Ambulance and a Licensed Advanced Life Support Unit (Department of Fire and EMS has the only certificate of need to provide on-scene paramedic services in the District of Columbia).

30,001 – 50,000

Two fixed First Aid sites with certified/licensed personnel who will remain on site throughout the event, 2 Basic Life Support Units and 1 Advanced Life Support Unit (all licensed in the District of Columbia).

50,001 – 60,000

Two fixed First Aid sites with certified personnel who will remain on site throughout the event, 2 Basic Life Support Units and 2 Advanced Life Support Units (all licensed in the District of Columbia).

Events exceeding 60,000 persons are required to also have emergency medical services personnel from the Department of Fire and EMS as well as the Department of Health on site for the appropriate provision of first aid and/or emergency medical services.

NOTE: Special high-activity events such as concerts, 5K and 10K races, and marathons, as well as other events staged during periods of extreme temperatures, or potentially affecting a high number of special needs individuals (e.g., elderly or young children) will be required to obtain first aid and/or emergency medical services and other Fire/EMS assets as determined by the Department of Fire and EMS and the Department of Health.

To ensure that you are meeting the requirements for the provision of first aid and/or emergency medical services, please contact:

Department of Fire and Emergency Medical Services
Emergency Medical Services – Special Events Coordinator
1338 Park Road, NW
Washington, DC 20010

DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH/FOOD PROTECTION BRANCH – GUIDELINES FOR FOOD SERVICES

A successful venture in food service at special events can be assured when you diligently follow the instructions listed below.

1. The processing and preparation, including cooking, of any food that is to be served or sold at the event must begin no earlier than 4 hours before the time of sale or serving.
2. If packaged/precooked foods prepared commercially for reheating prior to serving are used, the reheating should take place as close to the time of sale or serving as is reasonably possible, but under no circumstances should it be more than 4 hours.
3. The food should be of good quality and fresh in the sense of not being outdated or in a deteriorating condition.
4. The internal temperature of those foods that are reheated or cooked should reach 165°F during the reheating or cooking process.
5. The food held in storage or on the serving line must be at a temperature either above 140°F or below 45°F.
6. Protect the food from dust, flies and contamination by either the preparer/server or the customer. A sneeze guard must be provided.

7. Unpackaged/prepared food remaining at the end of the day should be discarded to waste.
8. Provide adequate supply of water for food handlers to wash their hands, also soap and paper towels. No cloth towels are permitted.
9. If you must handle the food, wear disposable gloves and change them frequently.
10. All food handlers must wear hair restraints.
11. Use only single service containers and utensils in your food service to the customer.
12. All foods and single service items must be stored off the ground at least 4 to 6 inches.
13. Do not let melting ice, leaking cartons or dropped food make a nuisance condition on the ground in your area of operation.
14. Provide adequate waste containers with lids.
15. Equipment/utensil washing facilities must be provided. Washington facilities must consist of the three containers: the first for detergent wash, the second for clean rinse and third for a sanitizing rinse. One capful of bleach per gallon of water can be used to formulate a sanitizing rinse solution.
16. Utensils and containers used in the preparation or storage of food, which includes crushed ice for drinks, must be designed and constructed for that intended use and they must be kept as clean as possible during such use.

Finally, if you are not sure of how to protect yourself and those you serve from possible illness or injury, call the FOOD PROTECTION BRANCH on 202-535-2180 for advice. THE ADVICE IS FREE!!

NOTE: If, during the inspections, the Department of Health finds that your food or your operation threatens the health or safety of your patrons, you will be required to dispose of the food or discontinue the operation.

ALL FOOD SERVICE OPERATORS MUST BE INSPECTED PRIOR TO CONDUCTING ANY SALES.
